

Participate in Spring 2010 Environmental Leadership Training

with the Chicago Conservation Corps (C3)

Learn why it's important to conserve water, then organize and lead a rain barrel bonanza.

Learn how composting reduces waste deposited in landfills, then lead a composting workshop.

Learn how to make your own green cleaning solutions, then lead a demo and distribution event.

topics include:
water • land
air • energy •
community engagement
and more!

LEARN: You'll learn from community and environmental leaders about urban environmental challenges and opportunities for change.

LEAD: Take what you've learned and make something happen.

ACT: Take action and lead an environmental service project in your community with C3 support and resources.
